

Rick Tamlyn

“Create and design your life from your unspoken passions.”

— Rick Tamlyn

Client Testimonials

“Rick Tamlyn’s Bigger Game workshops gave my team of country and business executives the motivation and focus to rally behind a compelling purpose for the team. From there I saw great partnership and collaboration across national and functional boundaries for a very successful year for our Asia Pacific operations.”

— Luc Grenon, General Manager, IBM Global Financing, Asia Pacific

“Rick’s ability to engage an audience had participants fully involved, enthusiastically learning and having fun. They left the session confident and motivated to utilize coach approach skills to become more effective leaders.”

— Gail Ecker, Manager, Leadership and Organizational Development, LCBO

“Rick’s whole being is coach-like, and as such participants quickly began to understand just what a coach-approach looks like, feels like and sounds like. Rick had as many as 500 participants actively engaged, focused, and participating fully in the exercises and role-plays. Thanks Rick for helping to launch the ‘coach-approach’ in our organization.”

— Murray Kane, Senior Vice President, Human Resources, LCBO

“When your team, your organization, or your community is ready to embrace a new way of doing business, it’s time for the Bigger Game. Rick captivated our audience with his revolutionary Model of Change. The Bigger Game model is brilliant in its simplicity, power, and ability to call forth what’s waiting to happen. Once you’ve experienced Rick and the Bigger Game, you will forever be changed in the way you plan for the future of your business, and your life.”

— Cathy Perry, President 2007, Georgia Coach Association

“Our participants were meeting planners and hotel sales people who have heard dozens of speakers. Rick brought new insight and energy into a topic we can never hear enough about — Leadership. The attendees kept talking about Rick’s ‘humanness.’ He wasn’t afraid to be himself while talking to the group. I highly recommend Rick for any business meeting as a speaker.”

— Diane Kaufman, Director of Intermediary Sales Strategy, Marriott International

“Rick’s keynote speech...had just the right combination of serious message and humor. The faculty and staff are still talking about their leadership ‘styles’ that Rick discussed...and best of all, they are staying curious about each other’s styles. Rick has my highest recommendation for energizing and inspiring your work group.”

— Kay Harrison, Professor—Staff Development Coordinator, Oglone College

“Rick captivates every member of his audience with his generosity in sharing his expertise in coaching and life. This, combined with his dynamic personality created a powerful, exciting and fun learning experience.”

— Luann Horobin, Program Director, Calgary Association of Professional Coaches

“Rick Tamlyn is an inspiring model of a masterful coach, a Bigger Game player and what it means to live your values. The energy, humor and humanness he injects into his messages as a keynote speaker and facilitator will wake up any audience, and any individual who hungers for a fulfilling life.”

“Rick is an invitation for people to become more conscious to what is most important to them, and to the limiting beliefs and thoughts that are obstacles to achieving success. If you want to wake up your life, just spend a few minutes with Rick Tamlyn.”

— Susan Valdiserri, Leaders of Purpose, Professional Certified Coach & Organizational Consultant

“Rick Tamlyn is a master coach, speaker and facilitator. One of Rick’s greatest capabilities is what he calls ‘Meet-Point-Dance’ — he meets you (individual or group) where you are, sees and feels what that means, intuitively what you are needing/wanting, and then points you in that direction, and then sticks with you, as if in a dance, to see where you are now and what’s needed next. This dance is the mark of an outstanding facilitator and leader.”

— Melissa O’Mara, Innovation Leader and Catalyst

“I have learned many lessons from Rick Tamlyn that created immediate impact in my life. He has provided me amazing lessons of personal leadership, rich insights, and how to discover my greatest passions. As my coach and mentor, Rick has helped me achieve more success in my career, helped me increase my income, prepared me for my Bigger Game, and taught me how to create richer personal and professional relationships along the way. Rick has a powerful and rare gift to share — I know his destiny is to contribute this natural gift to the world.”

— Mike Masterson, IBM
